

Top: Fr. Peter Galadza was invited in 2009 to do a series of lectures, workshops and retreats in Ethiopia. He is pictured here in Addis Ababa after a workshop for the National Liturgical Commission of the Ethiopian Catholic Church.

Above: In 2003, Fr. Galadza was invited by the Vatican Committee of Historical Sciences to join a delegation to St. Petersburg, Russia for a conference on Catholic-Russian relations. Second from left: Fr. Vincenzo Poggi, SJ, noted professor of the Oriental Institute in Rome; Msgr. Walter Brandmüller, President of the Pontifical Committee and head of the delegation. To Fr. Peter's left (dark suit), the renowned archivist and historian, Msgr. Giuseppe Croce.

Top: Fr. Daniel Grigassy, OFM (dark habit), and the Rev. Dr. John Gibaut, in 2001. Fr. Grigassy, professor at the Washington Theological University, was a post-doctoral fellow at MASI, and Fr. Gibaut, then director of the Anglican Studies Program at SPU, went on to become director of the Faith and Order Commission of the World Council of Churches in Geneva.

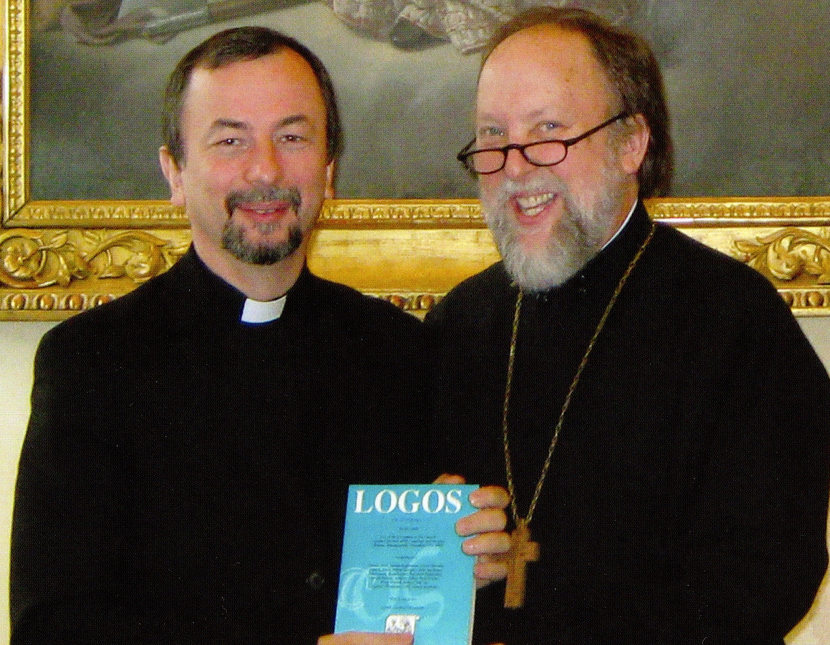

Above: Sheptytsky Institute professors and associates celebrate the awarding of an honorary doctorate to Archimandrite Robert Taft, SJ by St. Michael's College in Toronto. Dr. Jerry Skira (left), Dr. Yakiv Krekhovetsky (behind Fr. Taft), and Dr. V. Mezentssev were MASI sessionals, either in Ottawa or the summer programs.

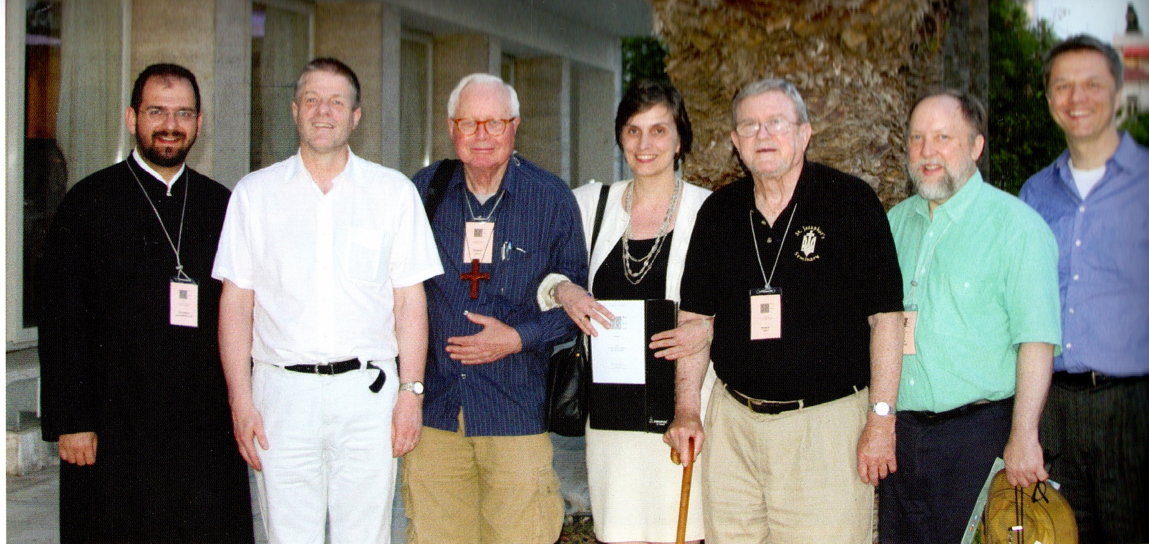

Above: With Metropolitan Jan Babjak of Prešov, Slovakia, after a conference at the Greco-Catholic Theological Academy of Prešov.

Right: After a meeting with Archbishop Cyril Vasil, SJ, beloved secretary of the Sacred Congregation of the Eastern Churches, Rome, 2009.

Right: Summer 2010: Fr. Peter Galadza with the Executive of the Society of Oriental Liturgy (SOL) after his election as president of SOL at its congress in Volos, Greece. To his right is Fr. Robert Taft, SJ, SOL's founder. The other members of the Executive are (left to right): Fr. Stephanos Alexopoulos, Greek-born professor at the Catholic University of America; Dr. Bert Groen of the University of Graz; Robert Daly, SJ of Boston College; Prof. Elena Velkovska, University of Sienna; and Fr. Mark Morozowich of the Catholic University of America.

Above: Meeting with the president of the University of Balamand, Lebanon, summer 2012. The university, which operates under the auspices of the Orthodox Patriarchate of Antioch, is unique in the Middle East, and provides a model of reconciliation between all faiths. Indeed, "in Antioch they were first called Christians" (Acts 11:26).

Above middle: Dr. Brian Butcher with renowned Cambridge University theologian David Ford, after a presentation by Brian at the American Academy of Religion. Prof. Ford was familiar with Brian's work from other conferences on Paul Ricoeur.

Above: The Sheptytsky Institute has always been happy to honour and thank its esteemed friend, Fr. Robert Taft, SJ. During a MASI-sponsored reception on Fr. Taft's eightieth birthday at the North American Academy of Liturgy (left to right): Lucien Coutu, founder of Montreal's Centre Emmaus; Dr. Ellen Aiken, Dean of the Faculty of Religious Studies, McGill University; and Fritz West, Protestant liturgist, along with another member of the NAAL.

Above left: May 2013: Fr. Andrew Onuferko in Argentina, during one of his enumerable trips to Ukrainian Catholic